

Henry Carpenter, of Tijeras canon, is in the city.

Mrs. J. H. Loveland left this afternoon for Bernalillo on a visit.

C. C. Hall left last night for the west. He will be absent about a week.

Mrs. Burk, registering from Albuquerque, was in Santa Fe last Sunday.

Mrs. M. C. Nettleton, wife of Jewel Nettleton, is quite ill with diphtheria.

E. L. Hall, United States marshal, is expected here from Santa Fe this evening.

Leon Lamm, brother of Mrs. L. B. Mandell, has returned to the city from Chicago for the winter.

Col. Givens, the general manager of the Singer Sewing Machine company, of this city, left for Santa Fe today.

Joseph Kuhns, general storekeeper for the Atlantic & Pacific, left last night for a trip over the road in the interest of his department.

Mrs. John Pfeiffer left this afternoon to visit her parents at Lamy Junction. Mr. Pfeiffer will return to his business at Cabazon.

Marcelino Baca and Juan A. Garcia, of Pena Blanca, particular friends of H. V. Harris, are in the city and registered at the European.

George and Robert Smith, two brothers who hold down good positions at the Atlantic & Pacific general offices, spent last Sunday in Santa Fe.

W. C. Hadley, the excellent president of the Commercial club, left last night for a business trip to the west. He will probably stop a day at Fort Wingate.

V. P. Edie, the wool buyer for the F. J. Primrose wool company, left last night for Los Lunas, where he will examine the Romero wool, with the view of purchasing it.

J. B. Lazear, the national bank examiner for the government, headquarters at Denver, arrived in the city last night and has his name on the Hotel Columbus register.

Charles H. Schooley, passed through the city this afternoon with nineteen Navajo Indian children. They will enter the government Indian school at Grand Junction, Colo.

H. W. Loomis, chief deputy United States marshal, left this afternoon for Santa Fe and from there he goes to Wichita, Kansas, where his family are now visiting.

J. W. Walker, chief clerk of the Atlantic & Pacific Railroad company, and wife, who have been visiting relatives and friends in Kansas and Illinois, returned home last night.

Miss Anna Ackerman, formerly of this city, now of Williams, A. T., passed through the city this afternoon on her way to Guthrie, Neb., where a brother died the other day.

A. M. Blackwell, of the firm of Gross, Blackwell & Co., Albuquerque and Las Vegas, arrived from the north last night and is around among his many Albuquerque friends today.

Mrs. H. B. Steiner arrived last night from East St. Louis, Ill. Mr. Steiner is one of the proprietors of an illustrated monthly magazine, the first number to be published the 1st of November.

Miss Loraine Morley, daughter of Mrs. Floyd Jarrett, arrived in the city last night from Denver, and is stopping at the Hotel Columbus. She will join her mother on the ranch in Socorro county, leaving for the south this evening.

Charles A. Jones, of Chicago, arrived last night and registered at the San Felipe. This morning Mr. Jones met W. B. McLaughlin, with whom he was a schoolmate years ago, back in Wichita, Kansas. Mr. Jones is here for his health.

Rudolph Haberland, who has been sojourning at James hot springs, where he has interests, for the past two years, drove down to the city late yesterday afternoon and this morning stated to THE CITIZEN that he would probably remain in the metropolis during the winter.

Hon. John C. Spears, ex-mine inspector for the territory, who is working several first-class mines up in the Cochiti mining district, came down to the metropolis last night and is around with the city politicians today. He will attend the republican county convention in this city tomorrow.

Col. W. G. Marmion, of Laguna, who was at Santa Fe on business, came down to the metropolis last night, and continued on to his western home. While at the depot, Capt. Saltmarsh, of the First Infantry (local), engaged the colonel in conversation about territorial militia matters.

W. H. Burbage, attorney at Holbrook, Ariz., came in from the west Monday afternoon, and last night met his wife and children who arrived on the No. 3 passenger train from a protracted visit to relatives and friends in Canada. They left half an hour later for Holbrook, several Albuquerque friends being at the depot to see them safe on the west-bound passenger train.

Capt. Tyler, the city jailer, informs THE CITIZEN that when D. J. Hines left the city the other day he failed to liquidate a number of bills, scattered here and there, throughout the city. The captain says Hines pinched him for quite a nice sum of money, and besides owes A. J. Mahoy, Lesser & Lewinson and many others. It is understood that Mr. Hines and wife have gone to Buffalo, N. Y., to reside in the future.

THE CITIZEN of last Saturday contained an item to the effect that Sheriff Cunningham, of Santa Fe county, was at Grants station, on the Atlantic & Pacific, on official business. While there he arrested a man, Tomas Lucero by name, who is accused of being one of the leaders of a gang of Mora county murderers who assassinated ex-Sheriff Doherty, of that county, last winter. It is almost certain that Lucero is one of the assassins, for the reason that other members of the gang, under arrest, have given him away. Sheriff Cunningham was a passenger to Mora with the prisoner last Monday night.

E. B. Ames, who was the treasurer of the town of Cerrillos for years, will leave this week for Tulsa, Ok., where he and his family will reside in the future. Mr. Ames is one of the best citizens of the adjoining Santa Fe county, and the people of Cerrillos will find out, soon after his departure, that the town loses a good man. The gentleman is interested, with a party of Chicago capitalists, who intend to colonize thousands of acres of fruit lands near Tulsa.

The Las Vegas Optic says: Jose F. Jaramillo and Trinidad R. de Jaramillo, of Las Lunas, down the country, have executed a chattel mortgage to John W. Schofield, receiver of the Albuquerque National bank, on 21,000 head of sheep, more or less, in San Miguel, Guadalupe and Lincoln counties, to secure the payment of $25,000.00, the amount due from them to the defunct banking institution.

Some person, supposed to be one of Albuquerque's numerous bad boys, whose parents allow to prowl the streets at all hours during the night, three stone-throwers against the plate glasses of the Free Public Library room, Commercial club building, the other evening, and broke them.

Would you believe it possible? Politics are growing so sultry that this morning two prominent lawyers made a Railroad avenue holiday by engaging in a street fight. They are such poor fighters that their names and the rounds fought will not be published.

The ladies of the Public Library association have determined to give a series of hops during the season now opening, for the benefit of their institution. The first party will be given on Halloween, Oct. 31, and tickets will be on sale in the course of a few days.

Cattle Inspector Chas. Fowler states that the cattle quarantine for the year season is in force on November 1 and cannot be again applied until April 1. The quarantine against sheep from New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma and Utah continues in force.

The family of T. L. Burgett, the well-known engineer in the Atlantic & Pacific, after a protracted visit to relatives and friends in Wyoming, returned last night. Mr. Burgett met the folks here, and all will go west to Winslow this evening.

Mrs. Fatters, who concluded the other day to rent the Windsor hotel, late yesterday afternoon concluded otherwise, and the hotel is again in the hands of Melton Chavez, agent for Jose G. Chavez, owner of the building.

V. C. Phillips, who clerked at Elder & Co.'s some time ago, died at Brookline, Mo., on the 31 of October. He was here about a year ago, and there are a number of friends here who will regret to learn of his death.

W. L. Haney, for the republicans, and W. S. McLaughlin, for the democrats, will this week take a census of the voters of the city for their respective parties.

Army Notes.
The two cannons from Fort Marcy were today shipped to the ordinance depot at Benicia, Cal.

The hospital stores have been sent from Fort Marcy to Fort Wingate and Dr. Kimball will follow to-night.

Commissionary Sergeant Lehman Hinesman will be sent to Fort Walla Walla, Wash., as soon as his services at Fort Marcy can be spared to relieve Commissionary Sergeant Edgar Hollenbeck.

A general order has been issued regulating the allowance of pack and draft animals at all posts, which shall not exceed the rate of four for each post garrisoned by one company, with an additional company. The total number of pack and draft animals allowed the department of the Colorado is limited to 600. Lieutenant Stottler therefore expects an order shortly directing the sale of the splendid lot of mules now at Fort Marcy.—New Mexican.

holders for Fort Wingate.
Last night at 8:30 o'clock two special trains, one of soldiers and the other of horses, arrived from Fort Huachuca, Arizona, and after remaining here for two hours left for Fort Wingate.

The officers of the soldiers were Capt. D. C. Pearson, First Lieut. A. M. Fuller, First Lieut. W. H. Bean and Second Lieut. M. C. Smith, and the men numbered 105, members of Troops E and K, Second Cavalry. One hundred and fifteen horses were on one of the specials. During the stop of the officers and soldiers, several of the latter with their families, dined at Harvey's spot lunch house, and the animals were watered and fed.

Rich Ore.
Capt Jennings, formerly of Socorro, now of the White Oaks mining district, is in the city, and has samples of the richest ore ever discovered in the North Homestead and Old Abe mines of the above district. The captain is very reticent in regard to the value of the samples, but it is conceded to assay up several thousand dollars to the ton. The samples were shown THE CITIZEN representative, and while he admits that he knows more about rich potatoes, still were gold in many places are plainly discerned in the samples. Success to the White Oaks mining district.

Death of Mrs. Bush.
It was with sadness THE CITIZEN learned last night, from Rev. Hodgson, of the Highland Methodist church, that the wife of Rev. J. D. Bush, of San Marcial, died during yesterday. The funeral took place at San Marcial today, Rev. Hodgson leaving last night for the purpose of conducting the services. The sympathy of New Mexico in general, for the bereaved husband is well-known as a minister of the Gospel throughout the territory, will be extended to Rev. Bush.

HE WAS MURDERED.

The bones of John Vipond found and they indicate murder.

THE CITIZEN learned this afternoon from reliable sources that the remains of the man, John Vipond, who has been missing from Bland since last July, have been found. His brother came on from Butte City, Montana, and organized a searching party, who started from Bland about the 15th of September, with Jim Bentley as guide, and after twelve days' hunting finally got a clue and followed it up. The party found the bones of the missing man in a canon, near where he was known to have camped. The skull, when discovered, had a square hole through it, made by a miner's pick, which was also found near by. There is sufficient evidence already gathered to warrant the arrest of three or four parties, and they are doubtless in custody by this time. As soon as arrested, the suspected parties will be taken to Santa Fe for trial, as the exact location of the finding of the body is not known as a certainty to be in Rio Arriba or Bernalillo counties, and the territorial officers will have to decide the question.

WIDOW AND SUICIDE.

An old Navajo Indian kills his wife, then himself.

Gregory Page and Leon Parker came in from Gallup this afternoon, and the latter told the reporter of THE CITIZEN the particulars of a Navajo murder and suicide that took place about three miles from Gallup last Monday morning. Some time ago, an old Navajo Indian married a young woman, about 13 years old, against the wishes of her parents, and in consequence the latter kept the husband, as much as possible, from visiting his wife. Last Monday morning, he rode up to his wife and shot her dead; he then shot his horse, and with the muzzle of the deadly weapon placed against his own forehead, he pulled the trigger and blew off the top of his own head. A little boy, about 9 years old, witnessed the dreadful tragedy, and he gave the general alarm. The Navajos buried the bodies according to their custom yesterday afternoon.

Old Timer Gone.

Another old timer has passed away in the person of Henry H. Green, who died at Mora Friday evening, at the ripe old age of 76 years. He first came to New Mexico in 1852, as a lieutenant in the regular army, having graduated from West Point in the same class with Gen. U. S. Grant. He was a veteran of the Mexican war, and after retiring from the army was employed in the quartermaster's department at Fort Union and Santa Fe. He has lived for many years at Mora, where some two years since he was married to Miss Desmarais, of Las Vegas. Mr. Green was a man of integrity, honest in his convictions and was an acknowledged authority on all matters of historical interest in New Mexico. H. V. Harris, probate clerk of this county, was well acquainted with the deceased.

W. Carl Scheef, registering from Chicago, is in the San Felipe.

Dr. W. H. Harrison and son, Grover, arrived home last night from the east.

Alex. Kempnich, the Peraltia, Valencia county, general merchant, is at the European.

W. A. Denny, the big Chicago cattle buyer, and brother, N. R. Denny, are at the European.

Judge Steery arrived from the west in special car No. 100, this afternoon, and continued on to-night.

Hon. J. W. Fleming, the mine inspector for the territory, who has just returned from an examination of the coal mines at Gallup, is in the city.

Hon. Luciano Ortiz, chairman of the board of county commissioners, is here from Pena Blanca, and is at the republican county convention.

Miss Fannie L. Hagg has been transferred to the United States Indian school at Albuquerque from the government Indian school at Santa Fe.

J. Clarence Mahoney, assistant editor of the Gallup Gleaner, is here taking in the republican county convention. He made a pleasant call at THE CITIZEN.

J. E. Moore, of Las Vegas, has been called to this city on account of the serious sickness of his wife, who has been spending some weeks there in a lower altitude.

Mrs. Frank Garrett, a very popular lady among the Spanish people of the city, left this afternoon for Raton, where her husband is engineer on a switch engine in the Santa Fe road yards there.

N. F. Irish, of the firm of N. F. Irish & Co., the insurance agents who represent the Palestine Fire insurance company and other excellent companies, has returned from a successful trip through the northern counties.

Jas. A. Lockhart, ex-sheriff of Grant county, one of the largest cattle raisers of southern New Mexico, passed through the city last night on his way to Colorado, where he has several thousand head of cattle now there on pasture.

H. B. Ferguson, assistant United States attorney in the trial of special cases, will return from the Lincoln county court this evening and proceed on to the Mora county court. Judge Warren, his law partner, returned from Mora last Monday night.

Judge A. M. Cudington, of the Bland precinct, is in the city taking in the harmonious republican county convention. Col. John Borradaile and W. W. Strong, also of Bland, are here, and their pleasant faces were noticed at the convention this afternoon.

Dr. T. P. Robinson and son, of Gallup, came in from the west last night. The doctor is the surgeon of the Atlantic & Pacific at Gallup, and is one of the best surgeons on that road. He is here on business, but found time to take in the republican county convention at the opera house this morning.

Fred. Douglass, formerly of Gallup, but now of Durango, Colo., where he is interested in mining, was subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury of this county. He arrived last night, and is at the court house today. Mr. Douglass took an inventory of the stock of goods of D. M. Smith, who was murdered by Navajo Indians, and of course took a general observation of that horrible murder, which was exclusively published in THE CITIZEN at the time.

Auntie Rooney's Copper avenue sheet, the colonel's blot, says this morning on its local page that it took THE CITIZEN a week to find out that D. J. Hines had skipped, while on its editorial side of the same issue it gives Hines the benefit of a scrib, extracting the substance from what Captain Tyler told THE CITIZEN and what was published in this paper yesterday afternoon. To prevent the colonel from paying—or promising to pay—for type-setting, call around and secure our forms.

Last night about 6:30 o'clock Captain Tyler, the city jailer, arrested a vag, Williams by name, near the Sisters' school on North Sixth street, and locked him up. The man was prowling around the neighborhood begging. When searched at the jail he had on his person a large pistol. In the absence of Police Magistrate Lockhart, Justice Burke attended to the vag this morning, and he will remain an inmate of the jail for some time to come.

The democrats held a meeting last night in one of the Mandell store rooms on North Second street, and arranged for a ratification meeting on the 23d. F. N. Wilkerson presided, and Frank McKee acted as secretary. Judge W. C. Heacock and Col. J. G. Albright made short speeches. A committee was appointed to arrange for the ratification, with Gordon D. Pearce and Pedro G. de la Lanza as marshal and assistant marshal.

THE CITIZEN learned last night from G. K. Neher, that his brother-in-law, Louis Holz, who arrived a few days ago with the mother of Mr. Neher from Crete, Neb., (mentioned at the time in THE CITIZEN) will probably locate permanently in this city. Mr. Holz is a very pleasant gentleman, fat and jolly, and THE CITIZEN would be pleased to have him become a permanent citizen of Albuquerque.

Harry D. Homer, the excellent night yardmaster at the depot, has filed application for a homestead in Bernalillo county on the mesa, with the receiver of the Santa Fe land office. In a few years Harry will have one of the nicest and most profitable homes on the mesa to be found anywhere in central New Mexico.

Pitt Rose, one of the best civil surveyors in the territory, announces in THE CITIZEN that he is a candidate for the office of surveyor of Bernalillo county. Mr. Rose is square to a cent, pays his bills, and it matters not which party gives him preference, if elected, he would prove a competent surveyor.

It is stated among many friends that Jim McCord, F. E. Stargus, W. L. Trimble and several others are arranging their affairs so as to be able to take in the feast at Juarez, Mexico, the coming December. It is more than likely that Ed. H. Harsch and Percy Hawley will also attend.

M. W. Flournoy, the excellent financier who holds the position of vice president of the First National bank, and family moved yesterday from their residence on Silver avenue to his handsome residence on Railroad avenue and Armistead street.

The following note, in a familiar handwriting, was found on the local editor's hook, at noon: "O'Connor Roberts is the logical candidate for county surveyor and his party is ungrateful unless they nominate him."

Jose A. Salazar, of Trinidad, Colorado, is here on an extended visit with a view of making Albuquerque his future home. He has divers interests in this county and considerable property in the old town.

Colonel E. C. De Patron, of the pension examining commission, came down from Las Vegas last night to attend the ball at the Turner hall. Colonel Ed. Newcomer had the visitor in charge.

Engineer John Carroll, of Winslow, Arizona, is in the city today. He is on his way to his old home at Peoria, Ill., where he is called to see his mother, who is very sick.

The Optic says: "The Rathbone sisters, new Pythian sisters, have received a piano purchased of A. D. Whitson, of Albuquerque."

Fred. Meyers, manager of the Crescent coal company's big store at Gallup, arrived from the west this afternoon.

The war Marcial fire.
The following article about the San Marcial fire is continued from the lengthy article published in the Bee. It says:

Tuesday night about 11 o'clock several men in the saloon of Armstrong Brothers, in San Marcial, discovered a smell of fire, and an investigation disclosed smoke coming from the roof of the Leyer store. Nothing could be seen by looking in the windows, as the store was full of smoke. The alarm was sounded and neighboring merchants began to move into the street. Some of the roof of the Leyer store fell in, and the flames burst out. By great efforts the adjoining buildings were saved. A family living in the Leyer building lost everything, and Fred Leyer, who slept near the store, was aroused in time to save but little. Broyles' drug store, Lowenstein's men's furnishing goods, and Bonen & Co. moved out and lost considerable by damage and stealing. The insurance is said to be $120,000 on stock, $5,000 on building and $500 on fixtures.

Back to the Reservations.
Pinto and Black Hawk, two Navajo Indians, who were here as witnesses before the grand jury in the D. M. Smith murder case, with their interpreter, Frank Walker, a half breed, left last night for Bland station. Pinto is the principal one of the tribe that assisted Lieut. Plummer, then agent to the Navajos, and other Strachan in running down the supposed murderers, resulting in their arrest and subsequent incarceration in the county jail. Three Navajos were arrested, and one of the red devils committed suicide in the jail. It is more than likely the other two will be indicted.

MADE FROM.

Judge A. L. Morrison in the midst of the Ohio campaign.

Editorial Column.
Columbus, O., Oct. 10.—Every sign of the times points an overwhelming democratic defeat. If our friends, the enemy, wish some cheerful reading, I would commend to them the daily reports from New York, where Hill seems to be rapidly drifting on to the breakers. Not a man in the administration, from Cleveland down, has a good word for Hill; in deed, it would be very strange if they had, in view of his rebellion in the senate. The anti-snapper ticket, just nominated, rings Hill's death knell. It was inspired by ex-Secretary Fairchild, the president's next friend, and is a declaration of war to the knife against Hill. Dan Lamont made a few hurried visits to New York to fix things, but things wouldn't stay fixed. I enclose the resolutions of the Brooklyn democrats, which you may not have seen. In New York City there is a complete alliance of all the anti-Tammany elements, including ex-Mayor Grace's powerful following. I am delighted to see that my old friend, John W. Goff, who has so ably exposed the wholesale blackmail system and nameless crimes of Tammany hall, has been nominated for recorder. He is a democrat, but he is the very soul of honor and courage.

On every side and every day we hear of defections from the democracy. They would need a Moses to pilot them through the wilderness. Mr. Thurman, the chairman of the Ohio democratic committee, has raised Cain (but that is not the word the democracy use), by issuing a free silver platform and ignoring the tariff. The howl of the cuckoo in Washington, echoed by kindred birds and gold bugs in the east, is making the poor man's life a misery. It has done one good thing, however, in opening the eyes of our western friends to the enmity of the democrats in the east to the white metal.

Wilson has been kept busy explaining his un-American and pro-English speech ever since before his landing. He oegan on the steamer, and has kept it ever since, with the result of making it worse every time.

The Louisiana revolt threatens to split the solid south into atoms. In the midst of this confusion the G. O. P., like a mighty battle ship, is sailing majestically through the storm, headed straight for the haven of Protection, where it will arrive safe and sound in November, 1894, carrying with it the triumphs of 1894.

My assignments for next week are Pomeroy, Chesterville, Jacksonville, Corning, Shawnee, Logan, New Straitsville and then back home.

I had a long talk with Senator Sherman, and he assured me that when our bill comes up in the senate it will pass without fail.

A. L. MORRISON.

The resolutions, which Mr. Morrison refers to, are as follows:

Brooklyn, Oct. 9.—At a meeting of the Brooklyn democratic club, to-night resolutions were adopted condemning David B. Hill and the democratic organization as it at present exists. The meeting was well attended, and was presided over by A. J. Wolfe, one of the vice presidents of the club. The first resolution of the evening was introduced by Everett Green. Embodied in this was the following:

The democratic party has seen fit to abuse the methods of the old party that was, and has introduced a system of blackmail. Their methods are not democratic methods. As democrats we introduce this resolution to repudiate David B. Hill and the Saratoga platform, and we request all good democrats not to vote for him.

Resolved, That the Brooklyn democratic club had with delight the nomination of an independent ticket, and that this club and all good democrats refuse to submit to the dictation of bossism.

A number of addresses followed the presentation of this resolution, and in keeping with the sentiment contained therein, and it was adopted.

The meeting was one for the appointment of a committee to confer with other democrats regarding harmony in the congressional and assembly nominations.

DO YOU EXPECT

To become a Mother?

If so, then permit us to say that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a true "Mother's Friend."

"Mother's Friend," FOR IT MAKES CHILDREN EASY.

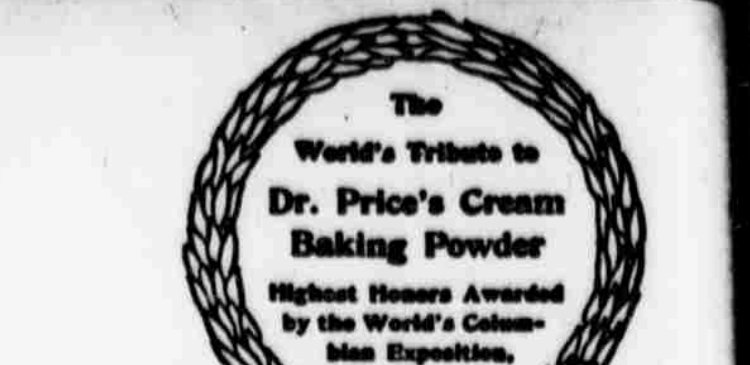

By preparing the system for parturition, "Labors." The painful ordeal of childbirth is robbed of its terrors, and the dangers thereof are removed, to both mother and child. The period of confinement is also greatly shortened, the mother strengthened and built up, and an abundant secretion of nourishment for the child promoted.

Send to cents for a large book (168 pages), giving full particulars. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICINE ASSOCIATION, 665 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

PAINLESS CHILD-BIRTH.

Mrs. FRED HUNT, of Glenville, N. Y., says: "I read about Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription being so good for a woman, and I got two bottles last September, and December 13th I had a twelve-pound baby girl. When I was confined I was not in any pain, and when the child was born I walked to another room and went to bed. I kept my stomach of Smart-Weed on hand all the time. It was very cold weather and our room was very cold but I did not take any cold, and never had any pain or any other pain. It was all due to God and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Compound Extract of Smart-Weed. This is the right living child and the largest of them all. I suffered everything that flesh could suffer with but this time my mother and my husband were alone with me. My baby was only seven days old when I got up and dressed and left my room and stayed up all day."

Atherton B. Wadleigh, formerly stock claim agent for the Atlantic & Pacific railroad, headquarters this city, and Miss Clara Whittle, who was married at Grace church, Petersburg, Va., Tuesday, Oct. 20. Mr. Wadleigh will be remembered in this city as a young gentleman always willing to play lawn tennis.

The World's Tribute to
Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder
Highest Honors Awarded
by the World's Columbian Exposition,
Chicago, 1893

World's Fair HIGHEST MEDAL awarded to Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

The highest award was given on every claim, comprising superiority in leavening power, keeping properties, purity and excellence. This verdict has been given by the best ever assembled for such a purpose, backed by the recommendation of the Chief Chemist of the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., who made an elaborate examination and test of all the baking powders. This is pre-eminently the highest authority on such matters in America.

This verdict conclusively settles the question and proves that Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is superior in every way to any other brand.

NOTE.—The Chief Chemist rejected the Alum baking powders, stating to the World's Fair jury that he considered them unwholesome.

A GOOD SHOW.

Col. Boone Advertised Extensively in THE CITIZEN and Secured a Big Crowd.

On West Railroad avenue where Col. Boone's show tents were situated, the street was a mass of moving humanity from early yesterday morning until late last night.

The advance agent, C. E. Van Horn, came to the conclusion that one advertisement in Albuquerque's widely circulated JOURNAL, THE DAILY CITIZEN, would suffice, and it was through his wise counsel and this medium, that a tremendous crowd filled the tents almost to suffocation yesterday afternoon and evening.

The show was opened with a performance by two immense bears, and they showed superior training from Mons. Bogart, by turning somersaults, dancing, playing dead and handling sticks like soldiers would guns.

A herd of trained hogs was much admired, and demonstrated that Mons. Natley has a superior class of educated "rooters" under his care. The trainer is also the clown of the show.

The trained goats and dogs are under the personal supervision of Daniel Boone, Jr., son of Col. Boone, and it is indeed marvelous to see these animals go through their various acts.

One of the most interesting features is the great catch-as-catch-can wrestling bout between an immense cinnamon bear and Mons. Coo. The bear proved a little too much for his man competitor, but the latter also made it very lively for Mr. Bruin.

The most thrilling scene in the show is the lion act, when four large lions are turned loose in a large steel cage, in the center of the canvassed arena. Col. Boone and his wife, Millie Carlotta, entered the cage, and it is wonderful the power they have over the beasts, causing them to caress each other and do a number of almost marvelous tricks. He also tantalized one of the largest with the refusal of portions of meat till the others were fed. The colonel used his whip freely, and aroused the lions almost to a frenzy, but still he had perfect control over them.

George W. McPherson, the present manager of the show and a most pleasant gentleman, called at THE CITIZEN office this morning and stated that L. D. Clark is now the proprietor of the show, having purchased the interest of Col. Boone in San Diego, Cal. The gentleman also stated that the show would go from here to El Paso, Texas, and thence to Dallas, where they will show for two weeks at the Texas state fair. On the 13th of last February the lion Parnell killed his trainer, Carlo Thiemann, at San Francisco, since which time he is the most dangerous beast, entirely too ferocious to be taken into the ring. Some time this winter, so says Mr. McPherson, the lion Parnell and the big cinnamon bear of the show will be pitted in a fight against each other in the City of Mexico.

His Experience With Navajoes.
Dr. J. W. Beck, an old dentist, who has resided at Farmington for the past five years, is in the city with a thrilling tale of escape from angry Navajos. The doctor was on his way across the Navajo reservation to Cabazon and thence to Albuquerque, when he had an encounter with a Navajo and badly worsted the Indian. He then threw his outfit out of the wagon, and drove, as fast as the horses could travel, to Cabazon, where he related his experience to John Pfeiffer and Theo. Prairie, and the two brought the dentist to this city, arriving here late Monday afternoon. A number of Navajos followed Mr. Beck into Cabazon, and were only prevented from carrying him away by Messrs. Pfeiffer and Prairie.

On next Monday the City Dry Works, a new institution, will open up for business at the corner of Gold avenue and Fourth street, under the superintendency of an experienced person in the business. Lace curtains will be laundered in fine style, while dresses and clothing of all kinds will be dyed and cleaned by a new process, warranted not to fade.

Notice for Publication.
